LARIMER COUNTY OVERVIEW

According to the 2020 census, Larimer County, located in north central Colorado has a population of 362,533 making it the 7th most populous of Colorado's 64 counties while also being the 9th largest in landmass.

The county extends to the Continental Divide and includes several mountain communities and Rocky Mountain National Park. The county encompasses 2,640 square miles that include some of the finest irrigated farmland in the state, as well as vast stretches of scenic ranch lands, forests, and high mountain peaks. Over 50% of Larimer County is publicly owned, most of which is land within Roosevelt National Forest and Rocky Mountain National Park.

In addition to these federal lands, Colorado State Parks and Wildlife, and Larimer County Parks and Open Spaces combine to provide a wide spectrum of recreational opportunities that are enjoyed by both residents and visitors.

The county has experienced significant population growth over the past few decades, more than doubling its population in the last 50 years, with 19% increases in the last two 10-year periods. The incorporated cities in the county are Ft. Collins and Loveland. Additionally, there are three towns (Estes Park, Timnath, and Wellington) in Larimer County. Three other towns --- Berthoud, Johnstown and Windsor – are located on the eastern Larimer County line in both Larimer and neighboring Weld County. The two remaining communities, Red Feather Lakes and LaPorte are unincorporated areas recognized as census areas.

Larimer County is also home to the state's only land-grant university, Colorado State University. CSU's Fort Collins campus has a student population of nearly 30,000 resulting in the population increasing significantly during the academic calendar year.

Larimer County is one of the largest and most innovative employers in Northern Colorado, with over 2000 full-time employees at locations spread geographically across the county, and hundreds of services provided to the community. The 2023 Larimer County budget is $671 million with a total net operating budget of $372 million.

LARIMER COUNTY STRUCTURE

Counties in Colorado are a constitutional subdivision of state government. Their boundaries, which are outlined in Colorado State Statute, were drawn by the General Assembly. Initially, counties were created to carry out the programs and policies of the state. These functions have grown over the years to encompass many policy and operational areas not contemplated 100 years ago. Counties can exercise only those powers specifically expressed in statute or the constitution.

COUNTY RESPONSIBILITIES

Under state statute, counties are responsible for law enforcement, which includes supporting the court's system and the district attorney function as well as providing jail facilities through the sheriff. Counties are also responsible for administering and carrying out virtually all programs overseen by the Colorado Department of Human Services. Counties may provide health services, although their ability to do so depends on the resources available. Counties are responsible for road and bridge construction, maintenance, and repair. Finally, they control land use in their unincorporated areas.

Counties have a vast number of other responsibilities, ranging from weed control to restaurant inspection, all of which are traced to state legislation. In specific instances, such as liquor licensing, the operation of landfills, and pest control, counties and the state have co-authority. Additional responsibilities are delegated to other county elected officials, such as the treasurer, assessor, coroner, clerk and recorder, district attorney, surveyor, and sheriff.

COUNTY POWERS

Counties have the power to incur debt, enter into contracts, and receive grants and gifts. Counties can incur either revenue debt (based solely upon a specified revenue stream) or general obligation debt, which constitutes a general obligation of the local government to repay the debt. Some counties also enter into lease-purchase arrangements (as an alternative to debt financing) to build major facilities such as justice centers. (Source: Colorado Counties, Inc. – CCI).

For most purposes, Larimer County acts through its Board of County Commissioners [BOCC]. The three-member board acts, by a majority vote of a quorum present, to adopt ordinances in those limited areas for which specific authority has been given by the Colorado State Legislature, and to adopt resolutions to conduct all of its other business.

LARIMER COUNTY LEADERSHIP

COUNTY MANAGER

The BOCC appoints a county manager to carry out the policy directions of the board and to supervise and coordinate the work of the staff in the departments that fall under direct control of the board. Except for the County Attorney, the County Manager will have line authority over all county divisions under the BOCC.

OTHER COUNTY ELECTED OFFICIALS

The other constitutional officers elected to four-year terms are the Assessor, Clerk and Recorder, Coroner, District Attorney, Sheriff, Surveyor, and Treasurer. Constitutionally and statutorily, they are independent of each other and from the County Commissioners. Their powers and duties are prescribed by state statute. The County Commissioners have no direct authority over the other elected officials in the county except that commissioners approve budgets for all other elected officials' departments.

As Duly Elected Officials representing community members of Larimer County, the non-BOCC Larimer County Elected Officials are entitled to the autonomous expression of their opinions and views. However, the Board of County Commissioners encourages the other Larimer County Elected Officials to communicate their feedback to the BOCC on any legislation that may impact how those offices conduct business.

LEGISLATIVE AGENDA PURPOSE & OVERVIEW

Larimer County's Legislative Affairs Program is made up of three major components: The Legislative Agenda, Legislative Priorities, and the Legislative Review Process as established in the internal Legislative Program Guide.

The Legislative Agenda is an official document of the Larimer County Board of Commissioners intended to express the types of legislative initiatives the county would be likely to support or oppose. The Legislative Agenda was created by the Board of County Commissioners and Larimer County Subject Matter Experts and was formally adopted on November 21st, 2023.

The Agenda will be revised and readopted yearly prior to the Colorado General Assembly's legislative session and provides the foundation for the county's legislative program. The Legislative Agenda informs our legislative priorities and assists staff across departments as they are engaging in legislative analysis and advocacy.

Larimer County's Legislative Priorities are directly related to specific proposed, pending or active legislation in a given session. The county can advance legislation in alignment with the Legislative Agenda, and can also take formal stances of advocacy on legislation coming from other entities that county subject matter experts have determined would impact the ability of the county to serve its residents or to achieve objectives laid out in the county's Strategic and Comprehensive Plans. (Further information on Legislative Priorities is in the following section regarding the Legislative Review Process.)

The Legislative Agenda is not meant to be prescriptive. A policy statement suggesting support or opposition on a given topic should be interpreted as nuanced because in an organization as large as Larimer County there are often competing viewpoints amongst departments, and sometimes even the Board of Commissioners.

Since legislation impacts multiple departments and topics, it is often important to refer to more than one section of this document while considering the potential impacts, and thus the county position on any proposed legislation. Please reach out to the BOCC and/or the Legislative Coordinator for confirmation on the county's position.

LEGISLATIVE REVIEW PROCESS

If introduced or proposed legislation has been identified as having a significant impact on the county by staff, a commissioner, legislative membership organization, or community partners, or if a third party has requested support from either the entire Board of Larimer County Commissioners or an individual commissioner, the BOCC will follow the legislative position evaluation process for determining the appropriate actions to be taken.

Larimer County holds active membership in three legislative partner organizations: Colorado Counties Incorporated (CCI), Counties and Commissioners Acting Together (CCAT) and Colorado Communities for Climate Action (CC4CA). The BOCC will rely on input from those organizations as they navigate the legislative process and will also use their voices in those organizations to advocate for their legislative positions.

Any legislative issue submitted by county staff and vetted by the BOCC as a legislative priority, or placed on a legislative membership organization's legislative agenda (CCI, CCAT or CC4CA) is considered to be legislation that Larimer County has taken an official position.

Once an existing or proposed piece of legislation has successfully gone through the legislative review process, it becomes an official Larimer County Legislative Priority and the BOCC and staff can work to advance the county position.

LOCAL FLEXIBILITY

The phrase “local control” has traditionally been used to refer to the power-tension dynamic between the state government and counties and municipalities. Unfortunately, this phrase implies the source of the tension is rooted in power. Larimer County instead advocates for local flexibility, which emphasizes that state requirements often undermine county government's ability to be flexible in responding to the unique needs of our community.

Oftentimes, although well intended, state laws can erode our ability to innovate, or can negatively impact programs that have demonstrated success. Larimer County will consistently advocate for increased local flexibility that allows us to continue to implement successful programs and will oppose measures that impede those efforts.

Local elected officials are often the closest and most responsive to their community members. We strongly support the concept of true home rule power and authority for counties consistent with those given to municipalities.

Local Flexibility is a running theme throughout the varying topics in the legislative agenda. When a policy statement relates specifically to local flexibility, it will be marked as such: (Local Flex.).

COUNTY BUDGET, STATE LEGISLATION & PROPERTY TAXES

Larimer County recognizes that it is an administrative arm of the state and a partner in providing critical services to our residents. This partnership requires sufficient funding from the state when mandates resulting from changes to new state law are created. The county's ability to absorb cost increases due to mandates has been constrained in recent years by inflationary pressures on goods, contracted services, and employee wages and benefits.

Often, the changes to state law that create significant cost mandates on the county are issues that the BOCC philosophically supports, but that begin to compound constraints on our budget, impacting other services. Examples of recent mandates passed on to the county in recent years include those related to body-worn cameras for law enforcement officers, which require not only equipment and contracts for cameras but staff to review and track video footage and storage space for video files; changes to liability for law enforcement; and rules related to restrictive housing and behavioral health services for inmates, which have added more than $5 million in annual costs combined since 2020.

Larimer County's ability to absorb cost increases for mandates passed down from the state could be made more difficult by constraints on property tax revenues, which are the county's sole significant discretionary funding source. At a time when the county needs to provide pay increases of between 5% and 10% annually to retain staff, and contract costs are rising at similar rates above inflation, pegging a limit on property tax growth to the Consumer Price Index becomes problematic.

Larimer County, like all other local governments, has the ability to temporarily or permanently reduce property tax rates depending on conditions, and has done so three times since 2016.

Policy statements that are connected to county budget impacts of state legislation are marked: (Budget).

In order to preserve maximum financial flexibility at the local level, Larimer County:

1. Opposes state and federal requirements to increase county-level programming or services without appropriating the funding necessary for their implementation.
2. Supports legislation preventing the transfer of agricultural land from an existing Urban Renewal Authority (URA) into a new URA without explicit county approval.
3. Opposes efforts to weaken the collaborative tax increment financing structure created by Senate Bill 15-1348 when URAs are created or substantially modified.
4. Opposes statewide limits on property tax revenue growth, especially those that create a cap on revenue growth, or that require Counties to reduce property values or assessment rates. Should the State consider broad changes to property tax laws, such as assessment rates, classifications, and others, the County strongly urges those proposals:
 - a. Prioritize the ability of local governments to reduce property taxes based on conditions and demands of residents in their local communities.
 - b. Take into account the impact on Assessors' and Treasurers' offices, and seek their input on implementation when considering new property classifications
 - c. Exempt value changes related to oil and gas extraction and new construction from any revenue caps
 - d. Retain the ability of governing boards to exceed any revenue increase cap, as was included in SB 23-303.
5. Supports legislation exempting new property tax revenue originating from expiring Tax Increment Financing (TIF) districts from counting toward any state mandated property tax revenue caps.

CLIMATE, ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP & SUSTAINABILITY

Larimer County's Climate, Environmental Stewardship, and Sustainability Policy will ensure that the county operates in a manner consistent with mitigating human-caused effects on climate and adapting to our changing climate, environmental stewardship, and sustainable operations and decision-making today and into the future. This policy is reflective of community values, current scientific findings and methods, and is in alignment with the work of the county's Internal Climate and Sustainability Action Plan, the Climate Smart and Future Ready Initiative, and the Colorado Communities for Climate Action (CC4CA) policy statement.

To these ends, the County:

- 1.Supports prioritizing human health and the environment in a manner that is inclusive of economic and social equity priorities that prioritize policies that focus on equity and involve underrepresented community sectors in decision-making and action.
- 2.Supports the reduction of negative environmental impacts with the understanding that clean air, water, and land benefit our regional economy and our community.
- 3.Supports preservation and protection of public natural resources that balance short and long-term economic, agricultural, environmental, and community needs and recognizes the importance of locally driven and designed programs.

- 8.Supports legislation that provides funding and financial incentives that enable the development and deployment of pollution reduction, conservation, and resilient actions.

Since Larimer County's climate and sustainability efforts impact all areas of county policy, there are additional climate-related policy statements throughout this document that are indicated with the following designation: (Climate).
